

B'nai Sholom Reform Congregation

Presents

MOVIE NIGHT

"The Mamboniks"

Saturday, November 8, 7:30 PM

Bagels meet bongos in this joyous documentary telling the surprising story of Jewish dancers who fell in love with the Cuban mambo in the 1950s, sparking a dance craze that swept the nation. This group of free-spirited dancers earned a nickname: The Mamboniks. It's a lovely story of building bridges between cultures and communities enhanced by great archival footage, and the film is guaranteed to get your hips swaying.

Directed by Lex Gillespie, director of "The Catskills."

Open to all

Admission: $5

Non-members are requested to pre-register via the website link

Refreshments will be available

For more information:

Phone 518-482-5283; Email office@bnaisholomalbany.org

B'nai Sholom Reform Congregation

